

Why Church Leadership Institute?

The Church Leadership Institute is recognized by American Baptists regionally as an accepted model of study for persons desiring to be certified as lay ministers.

After completing CLI and the certification process, you may pastor a church, be an associate youth or interim pastor, do supply preaching and/or generally work in your own church in a more experienced way.

Graduates may register with American Baptist Personnel Services. This can facilitate the possibility of being called to a church ministry position. If called as a pastor, you will have the necessary recognition to perform weddings, and with the affirmation of the local church, may dedicate children, baptize, officiate at the Lord's Supper, and conduct funerals.

A Certified Lay Minister usually has the opportunity to do whatever an ordained person can do and should be well equipped to conduct quality ministry in the name of Christ.

Is God calling you to grow? CLI has study opportunities for you to take individual courses, equip yourself for a specific ministry in your local church or to pursue ministry recognition!
