Greetings in the LORD!

Count your blessings name them one by one,
Count your blessings see what God has done.
Count your blessings. Name them one by one.
Count your many blessings, see what God has done.

I never was very good at math. Just ask my wife—she’ll tell you 😊. I blame it all on moving to a new school district when I was in the fourth grade. In my old school, we were learning long division and then in January we made “the move” and suddenly Mrs. Corl wanted me to learn “new” math. To say it didn’t go well for me would be putting it mildly. Let’s just say that my teacher told my parents she ended up on “nerve medicine” trying to help me overcome the hurdle of this new form of mathematics.

So, I’ve never been good at math, and if truth be told there are times that this struggle with addition goes beyond just numerals on a page, but also creeps into my heart and spirit when it comes to the manifold ways that God pours His Grace and Goodness into my life. When the weight of travel and meetings wear me thin; when the incessant flood of emails and phone calls lean more heavily on what is ‘wrong’ rather than what is ‘right’; when I begin to dread what the future may hold rather than looking upon it as a gift to be opened and treasured, I know that my days in Mrs. Corl’s class are coming back to haunt me.

I’ve had one of those runs recently. I’ve found myself with a healthy focus on “subtraction” rather than “addition,” and it took a meeting with one of our ABC missionaries recently to slap me upside the head and get my heart right once more. As I sat and shared with this dear servant of the LORD she talked about the same feelings that I was experiencing—feeling that she at times was out there all alone and that what she was doing for the cause of the Kingdom was having little to no impact. I nodded my head in a pastoral and caring way—like they taught us to do in seminary—but inside I was saying to myself, “PREACH it, sister!” It was at that point that God took her next words and used them to pierce deep into my heart. She said, “Yep, there are times that I feel that way, but then God ever so gently reminds me of the 100s and 100s of people that stand behind me in prayer, trusting that God will use the work we do together to advance the Kingdom. I’m not alone in this...I’ve got a great big Baptist Family that walks with me every day.”

My eyes welled up with tears as she finished her sentence, because I knew the same was true for me. In my mind I began to see the countless faces of the partners in ministry that I have in this regional family—some of whom I’ve literally known for decades—others for just a few months. God reminded me in a powerful way to “Count My Blessings,” and when I did, I saw each of you.

For the partnership that we share together here as a regional family, thank you. For the countless prayers that you offer for our ministry together, thank you. For the exposition of God’s Glory that you are to my life...thank you.

Amazed by His Love for me in giving me each of you to share this journey of faith,

Frank
Recently I purchased a porcelain figure of Jesus walking on the clouds. The way it was made, you couldn’t tell if Jesus was going up or coming down on them? It wasn’t the traditional figure with His head tilted up and His hands lifted in the air indicating where He was headed. This new design left me wondering which it was? I liked “the wondering” it caused me so I bought it. I tried to find a picture of it online but couldn’t. My own photo didn’t do it justice. You'll just have to come to my house (by appointment only ☺) to see it on display for yourself!

This month, I taught the final online class of the Theology course for our region’s school of lay ministry. My topic was Prophetic Eschatology, “The End Times” as it is often called.

One prophetic doctrine that is held by all Christian denominations is that Jesus is coming again! That's a primary doctrine. There is a difference of opinion as to when, how, and why He will show up. That's a secondary doctrine. What all also agree to is that when Jesus does return, He will radically change things. Jesus spoke of His return several times, including in His vicarious words through the Apostle Paul to the early church in their observance of the Lord's Supper, “until I come again” I Corinthians 11:26. Jesus is going to change everything!

Recently reading a church consulting peer’s blog, he reminded his readers that trade associations, fraternal groups, social clubs, boy scouts, girl scouts, and other membership organizations are in free fall. Like mainline churches, the majority have seen participation drop and younger members are few and far between. In my travels, I have seen these once thriving organizations in the ’50s and ’60s, now up for sale. Like most churches, these organizations need to make significant changes now if they are going to be valued and viable until Jesus comes. Did I mention, Jesus is going to change everything when He returns!

Congregations, that now struggle with change, are those with the following kind of culture: “They have profound, long-standing, carved-in-stone traditions. They have powerful political dynamics that inhibit and intimidate. They are manipulated by influential and formidable personalities. They value the status quo. Most are reactive rather than proactive.”

These words ring true for most struggling congregations that I work with daily. They are so used to doing things a certain way that they not only call it “normal” but they also call it “right”. When someone – the pastor, a new member or an outside voice – suggests a change, the system immediately begins to push back. Reasons are given why “it won’t work” or things said, “we never did it that way before” (the seven last words of a church!)

The very churches that most need to change in order to experience new life and reach new people are the ones most resistant to making necessary changes. Often when a church speaks of change, they mean “change so things can stay the same”. They take a chance, that without doing anything, things will just change on their own. Why not take the chance AND change?

In most churches, the window in which change can be introduced is closing and so are churches, some 70 of them every week across the most “Christian” nation in the world. More than in any persecuted country on earth.

The incremental rate of change in the church isn’t fast enough to keep pace with the exponential rate of change in the world. Every day that gap is increasing. Something radical needs to happen. Maybe Jesus’ return?

So, why is His Church so resistant to the very first thing Jesus will do when He gets back here? Why does His Body fight Its Head? To embrace Jesus is to embrace change. To follow Jesus is to be a change agent. To deny change is to deny the work of God in our lives in this life (the here and now) II Corinthians 3:18 as well as in the life to come (the hereafter). I Corinthians 15:51-52.

From the Johnson House to your Home and Church House, have a Blessed Thanksgiving! We are thankful for you. (Philippians 1:3)
On Saturday, Nov. 2, I attended the Church Security/Active Shooter Training class held at FBC, Pittsburgh. Sergeant Eric Kroll, with the Pittsburgh Police Force, did a fantastic job providing some basic training on Church Security as well as ways to respond if a threatening person or a dangerous situation confronts your church.

As I participated in the event in Pittsburgh, my mind occasionally drifted to another event taking place on the other side of ABCOPAD. ABCOPAD Foundation Director of Development and Biennial Leadership Conference Coordinator, Sue MacDonald, had over 110 ladies at the Parkesburg Baptist Church for the “Hope Beyond Disappointment” event featuring Marie Monville, former wife of the Amish School shooter. Marie’s life would be forever changed along with the families of all those who lost loved ones following that tragedy in Lancaster.

Sergeant Kroll over and over again told the group in Pittsburgh, “Hope is NOT a plan.” Hoping an active shooter or threatening person never enters your church facility is NOT a viable plan. Sergeant Kroll pointed out, no student has died in a school fire in over 60 years. He then stated the obvious. The reason for this statistic is because school administrators conduct fire drills so they are prepared for that emergency. It does not require a great deal of time to prepare your congregation in the event a threatening person comes to your church.

Sergeant Eric recommended the book entitled The Gift of Fear by Gavin de Becker. (I am about halfway through the book.) One of the main themes of the book is, we as humans have been gifted with great intelligence and instincts designed to protect us from danger. Sadly, our culture has often trained us to suppress or ignore our instincts in threatening or potentially violent situations. Gavin de Becker wrote: Nature’s greatest accomplishment, the human brain, is never more efficient or invested than when its host is at risk. Then, intuition is catapulted to another level entirely, a height at which it can accurately be called graceful, even miraculous. Intuition is the journey from A to Z without stopping at any other letter along the way. It is knowing, without knowing why.

(Mark would say God has given us this ability, Gavin points out.) Can you imagine an animal reacting to the gift of fear the way some people do, with annoyance and disdain instead of attention? No animal in the wild suddenly overcome with fear would spend any of its mental energy thinking, ‘It’s probably nothing.’ (I do recommend the book.)

Sergeant Kroll pointed out most dangerous situations — especially those involving an active shooter — are over in under five minutes and it is the first 60 seconds that will make the most difference.

As I have been reading the book and thinking about the training, it is easy to become “fearful” as we consider all the possibilities of dangerous or threatening situations. A few times my mind drifted to the words of the Apostle Paul in Romans 8. Paul wrote: Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword? As it is written: For your sake we face death all day long; we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered.

But Paul does not stop with that quote. He continues: No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons, neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

We certainly need to be prepared. ABCOPAD’s Regional Ministry Associate for Protect My Ministry, Valerie Black, stands ready to help your congregation to receive the training your church needs. Her contact information is on our website. While we need to be prepared we should NOT be fearful. In fact, the training can help reduce our fear and anxiety knowing we have a plan and we have a Mighty God who never leaves us nor forsakes us. God Bless, Mark

Pastor, Forest Baptist Church
Regional Ministry Associate for Women in Ministry, ABCOPAD
sradel@abcopad.com

On Oct. 5, I joined the Tioga Association’s gathering of American Baptist Women at Middlebury, Wellsboro. I was delighted to share with the group aspects of our local mission events at Forest, Winburne, as well as what is available to women in ministry within ABCOPAD—including our new Recognized Pulpit Speaker class, which is a very exciting addition to our region!

On Oct. 25 & 26, 11 Women in Ministry leaders from around our region gathered at Camp Krislund for a “Retreat to the Mountains.” It was a blessing to share this time with friends, old and new. There was ample free time to enjoy relaxing in front of the fireplace, or outside, but most of our time was spent getting to know each other, sharing our ministries, and having a dedicated time Saturday morning for prayer. Using Jesus as our example, we examined scripture showing different ways of how Jesus engaged in prayer, and how we can apply that to our lives.

This was the first retreat of its kind in the history of ABCOPAD. We are hoping to have a fall “Retreat to the Mountains” every other year, opposite of the Biennial Leadership Conference. We hope you will consider joining us next time!

On Nov. 3, I was privileged to attend Pastor Debbie Marker’s Installation Service at Hughesville church. Also present were clergy members from the Northumberland Association, who surrounded the newly-called pastor with encouragement, love and prayers.

Our next video call meeting will be held on Thursday, Jan. 23, 2020 at 7 p.m. Watch for announcements and the link for the video closer to the date.

I pray that you will have a wonderful Thanksgiving! No matter what is going on around us, we are blessed when we take time to praise and give thanks to our mighty and sovereign God.

Blessings to you and yours as we enter into the Christmas season.

Love in Christ, Sue Wilson Radel
By Sue MacDonald

Nearly 50 years ago, I stood in church on a Sunday morning as a 17-year-old recommitting my life to Christ while singing the hymn, “I’ll Go Where You Want Me to Go.” You know the chorus, “I’ll go where you want me to go, dear Lord, Over mountain or plain or sea. I’ll say what you want me to say, dear Lord. I’ll be what you want me to be.”

I sang while tears poured from my eyes. I ment every word I sang and yet the thought crossed my mind, even Africa? Could I do that? For 50 years, I haven’t had to decide whether I would go to Africa...until NOW!

A dear friend in California, Linda, has asked me to travel with her to the Democratic Republic of Congo in Nov. Specifically, we will visit the Mitendi Women’s Center on the outskirts of Kinshasa. Linda visited there in 2011 while travelling with the American Baptist Women’s Ministries Mission Tour group.

The Mitendi Women’s Center opened in 1999 with the vision and dedication of the Congolese Baptist women. The Center reaches the most vulnerable at-risk women, offering them hope of a better life through education, job training, counseling and a relationship with God.

In 2011, the Mitendi Primary School for grades K-6 was launched. The Congolese Baptist women acted by converting the only available space they had in the Mitendi Women’s Center and began providing education for 330 children—none of whom would otherwise be in school.

With the population explosion, there are more than 1,000 children in the area without access to education. In 2017 a proposal was made to build a Primary School on the 12 acres of available land of the Mitendi Center. The school will now serve over 700 students.

My friend, Linda, was instrumental in raising funds to help build the school. When she learned that the Primary School was completed and would be dedicated on Saturday, Nov. 23, 2019, she was determined to be there for the celebration. She has invited me to travel with her (since her husband would not let her travel alone). We will fly out of N.Y. on Nov. 16 and arrive in Kinshasa on Nov. 17, returning to N.Y. on Nov. 25.

I am humbled to have the opportunity to represent the ABCOPAD women at the dedication service. I want to be an encouragement to the women and children I will meet. Please pray for safe travel and good health. Karen Smith, Ruth Fox and Ray Schoeler of International Ministries will also be with us.

May 15-16, 2020 Thrive Conference

Theme Verse — Philippians 2:4

"Let each of you look out not only for his own interests but also the interest of others."

We will be ‘Thriving through Seeing’

We will be urged to have an External Focus and to be in mission. In preparation for THRIVE 2020, we are adding this newest addition to Thrive Group Books.

by Christine Caine

Christine is passionate about seeing every woman equipped to live her life on mission for Jesus.

In this seven-session study, you’ll develop a new understanding of how God sees you and has chosen you to help make Jesus’ name known on this planet. Through biblical teaching and lessons from her own life, Christine will challenge you to share the story of how God’s love has transformed your life right where you are. The 20/20 Bible Study Book is designed to be used in conjunction with the 20/20 DVD Leader Kit. Books can be purchased from your favorite online site for around $15. Thrive Groups will be reimbursed $5 per book purchased, when they submit the proper forms to Valerie Black, Spiritual Enrichment Coordinator. The Leader’s Kit, around $100, consists of: one Bible study book; two teaching DVDs; downloads of teaching sessions and extra leader sources. If your Thrive Group purchases the Leader’s Kit, has an External Focus and shares it with another Thrive Group, you will be reimbursed for the full amount, again by submitting forms to Valerie. So, come on ladies! Let’s focus less on ourselves and see more ‘mission possibilities’ as we strive to be JESUS’ hands and feet here on Earth!
ABCOPAD FOUNDATION

As we turn our thoughts toward Thanksgiving, we have many opportunities to express our gratitude for all that God has done for us. We are so grateful for the many Godly men and women who serve throughout ABCOPAD as the hands and feet of Jesus. We are grateful for those who partner with ABCOPAD to bring hope to a hurting world. Once again, we encourage you to partner with us so future generations will benefit from the mission and ministry offered in ABCOPAD. As you count your blessings this Thanksgiving, will you consider a gift today to support the mission/ministry of ABCOPAD?

Your gift today can make a difference! No gift is too small!

ABCOPAD will once again participate in #GIVINGTUESDAY. Some have already launched this with a gift to ABCOPAD. Would you consider an end of the year gift to support the ministry and mission of ABCOPAD?

Go to ABCOPAD Facebook page to learn more about #GivingTuesday and end-of-year appeal.

NOT ON SOCIAL MEDIA?...you can still give an end-of-year gift!!

News From our Associations

Abington
The Allan Scott Band will perform a free concert on Monday, Dec. 9, at United, Scranton. It is more than a concert! There will be stories from the band about breaking the chains of addiction! If you have not yet heard the Allan Scott Band, go and give them a listen!

Allegheny River
The annual Kids Without Toys concert was held at FBC, Shinglehouse. This fun evening was a fund-raising event to benefit the Christmas House in Coudersport, Pa. (The Christmas House provides Christmas gifts and necessities to families that are struggling financially.) The evening featured all kinds of entertainment, including vocal and instrumental music, and spoken word. A love offering was received.

Beaver Falls
FBC, Sharon, celebrated its 215th Anniversary in Oct. (1804 — That's the year Franklin Pierce, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Johann Strauss were born.) Rev. Dr. Frank Frischkorn was the guest speaker during the weekend celebration. Happy Birthday!

Centre
Forest, Winburne recently held a Homecoming event celebrating 125 years in ministry. They enjoyed meeting descendants of former pastors and founders from all over the country, and had more than 100 people in attendance. The 2-day event included worship, a river baptism, a hayride, lots of homemade food and joyous fellowship that took place in their newly completed fellowship hall and pavilion.

Central Union
Crafty Hands is a group of volunteers who knit and crochet at New Britain. They're busy folk! They donated 38 baby hats to Doylestown Hospital in Oct. The parents get to choose a hat for their little one to wear going home. How nice.

Siloam, Norristown, hosted a Financial & Legal Empowerment Workshop, offering personal financial strategies for the future. Legacy planning, investments, retirement, insurance, and long term care were just a few of the topics presented.

FBC, Norristown, is sending a team of approximately 15 missionaries to Puerto Rico in Feb. 2020. They recently held a Flea Market & Chicken BBQ fundraiser, and raised over $2,000 for the mission trip.

It's that time again. Operation Christmas Child is in full swing among many churches. Perhaps yours, like Pughtown, will be gathering gifts for needy children around the world.

Delaware
Calvary, Newark, invites members of the congregation to contribute to their annual Advent Devotional Book. Articles, devotionals and poems are welcomed. This year's theme: “Would you believe? The KING has come!” Once printed, the booklet is distributed to all the church family.

French Creek
Pastor Randy Powell, FBC, Franklin, recently led a 4-week educational discourse focused on comparative religions, looking at 11 different belief systems in light of the Christian gospel.

Harrisburg
The Baltimore Mandolin Orchestra was featured during a public concert at FBC, York. The Encore Concert Series provides an outreach in the York, PA area by offering free public concerts that create opportunities for both young and accomplished musicians to demonstrate their God-given talents and abilities.

Laurel
East Mahoning, Commodore enjoyed a Founder’s Day celebration on Sept. 22, with grilled hot dogs and hamburgers and many side dishes and desserts. There was a 60-foot water slide for kids (& adults), throw the hatchet at a target, other games, photos and lots of fun. The weather was beautiful, not too windy and the view was great with a black bear sighted over the field near the woods.

Then on Sept. 26, they shipped eight hygiene kits and 37 school kits to Church World Service, as well as 36 rolled bandages to White Cross.

On the first Sunday of each month, they have a noisy offering. Jodie Vasbinder has a children’s message and the children collect money for the ABW Ministries regional project; this year for Brazil. They’ll have the noisy offering each month until the ABWM’s Conference in 2020.

Miscellaneous
It was supposed to be a Trunk-or-Treat event. But the rain, the rain! Despite the crazy weather, Nebo, Nanticoke had around 1,500 people show up after they moved the event indoors for the first time. They used the sanctuary as a staging area to get people out of the rain and entertained with movies. There was food and goodies for all!

Monongahela
Olive Branch, Rostraver Twp., had exciting things to share:
• Our AB women had a soup sale during Smithton Days and raised over $500 towards our ABWM regional project.
• We had a guest speaker, Pastor Ackim from Zambia, Africa, who told us all about his ministry with the churches in the bush.
• Our AB men held a fish fry for the community to raise funds for their ministry.
Northumberland

FBC, Milton invited the public to its “Hall-O-Treats” festival. Friends and visitors were welcome to go door-to-door throughout the church, collecting treats and having fun! There were games, prizes, and popcorn in the gym! Great fall fun!

Muncy geared up for their annual Halloween outreach. For several hours, they welcomed visitors and handed out hundreds of full-size (!) candy bars, coffee, and even treats for occasional four-legged friends!

Hungry? You’re invited to have Wednesday lunch with the pastor at Moreland, Muncy. Currently, Pastor McNassor leads a study in the book of Psalms while everyone enjoys a good serving of soup and sandwiches.

Jamie Wagner shares: Montandon might not be growing in great numbers, but we are growing spiritually. We began to brainstorm about how God wants us to reach out into the community. We thought about all the years of bible school, but with age and lack of volunteers it didn’t seem possible. One member suggested she would like to take this event on and we engaged a local puppet ministry for the program and songs, allowing us greater flexibility in crafts, games and snacks. Everyone that attended had a super time and we are still saying, “It’s in the Book. It’s in the Bible.” We felt no matter the small attendance, God was telling us to begin planning our 2020 VBS.

A contingent of ladies regularly visits a small local assisted-living facility two times a month. One night they have a sing-a-long and the other they play games. During one visit, our one member asked the residents if she could take their photo. When we went back two weeks later, using her love and gift of scrapbooking, she brought materials for them to begin making their own scrapbook with their first photo. Each month she adds a new photo of each participating resident. The residents actually told us they would rather continue making a new scrapbook page every month than have game night. Christmas season, we hang tags on a poster of a tree in the church and MBC members adopt and purchase needed gifts for these residents. The gifts are delivered on Christmas day. Recently, we began to post residents birthdays and dates in the bulletin so folks can send cards. The blessings are overwhelming.

We are also very excited and congratulate our own member, Debbie Marker, for finishing the ACTS course and becoming a certified lay pastor now called to Hughesville for full-time ministry. We wish them all the very best!

Oil Creek

Kids in grades 5-12 were invited to a Halloween Lock-in at Greenfield, North East. It was an all-night extravaganza of fun, games, movies, junk food, worship, small group discussions and activities. The publicity said “no-sleeping.” (For a moment... close your eyes... just imagine!)

Pittsburgh

On Nov. 3, one year before the next presidential election, FBC, McKees Rocks, adopted a new initiative called Golden Rule 2020: A Call for Dignity and Respect in Politics. Several Christian organizations around the country have joined this movement, in hopes that the coming 365 days will not be a repeat of 2016’s divisive election season. The urge is to follow what Jesus taught us: “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.” (Matthew 7:12).

FBC, Monongahela, invited its neighbors to a Trunk-or-Treat Party. Always lots of fun!!

You are invited to celebrate the Installation Service for Rev. Dr. Felicia Duncan Brock as Pastor on Sunday, Nov., 17, 3:30 p.m. at First, Tarentum; 410 E 3rd Ave., Tarentum, PA 15084. Pastor Everett Jennings, Sr., Guest Speaker. Please call 724-224-2722.

Missions: Jan. 10 & 11, 2020
Instructor: Rev. Mark Mahserjian-Smith
Evangelism: Jan. 24 & 25, 2020
Instructor: Rev. Dr. Jeffrey Johnson
Friday evening, 6-10 p.m.
Saturday, 8-4 p.m.

Methods for evangelization and growth in the local church will be introduced. An overview of international mission support will be presented. Different ways of reaching non-believers and church members who have become inactive and borderline attendees will be discussed. Plans for organizing growth and a broad vision will be encouraged. Ways of establishing missions support and encouraging missionary interest in the local church will also be covered. These weekend dates are intense courses.

For more info, contact Rev. Ruth Moore at rmoore.acts@abcopad.com or 717-805-4901.

Wayne Susquehanna

FBC, New Milford made every effort to “Light The Night.” The New Milford Fire Company parked their emergency vehicles at the church for a touch-a-truck event. The candy, popcorn, games and cotton candy added to the festivities.
The cumulative comparison figures

United Mission Basics is behind through Oct. 2019 by ($9,796). The decrease in United Missions (includes UMB and Love Gift) amounts to ($8,307) less in actual dollars, that ABCOPAD received through Oct. AFC is ahead by $3,147. This increase amounts to $923 more in actual dollars, that ABCOPAD received though Oct. Partners in Ministry is behind ($20,987) through Oct.
